

I am a writer

Growing together, hand in hand

- I can write for a purpose.
- I have accurate letter formation and can join up my writing.
- I have imagination and flare.
- I can communicate my thoughts and feelings using well-chosen and ambitious vocabulary.
- I have a wide bank of ideas to draw on from material that I have read.
- I can recall and retell stories in order.
- I have the ability to sequence and structure my writing appropriately for its purpose.
- I have a secure grasp of spelling rules for my year group.
- I can proof read, change and edit my writing so that it is continually improving.
